New York, City.

My Dear Mr. Howland:-

I wish to sincerely thank you for the recent sending of the interesting photograph of one of the medals preserved in your Numismatic Society. I received the picture through the kindness of J. Neilson Barry, now visiting in your city, and I wish to express to you my deep appreciation for your kind help and interest in looking up a most interesting bit of historic data.

There is an Indian lady living near here, Mrs. Isabell Underwood, who possesses several old medals which are exactly the same as the illustration you donated and doubtless they are ancient relics brought to this coast by Lewis and Clark. I am sure this is a most valuable discovery and hope to make an interesting historic narrative of it for the press.

With renewed thanks to you. I am,

Sincerely and Gratefully Yours,
Mr. D. A. Brown
